In answer to a communication addressed by the people to the signatory power, parties to that treaty, I have stated that so far as this country is concerned there will be no infraction of the conditions guaranteed by treaties to Bulgaria. Assurances to the same effect have been given by the other powers.

The demarcation of the Afghan frontier has advanced to within a few miles of the Oxus. In view of the approach of winter, my commission has been withdrawn, but the information they have obtained will be sufficient for the determination by direct negotiations between the two courts of that portion of the frontier which still remains undemarcated.

TO THE HOUSE.
Gentlemen of the House of Commons: I thank you for the supplies you have voted for the requirements of the public service. My Lords and Gentlemen: I have directed the issue of a commission to inquire into the circumstances which appear to have prevented the anticipated operation of the recent acts dealing with the tenure and purchase of land in Ireland.

I have observed with much satisfaction the interest which, in an increasing degree, is evinced by the people of this country in the welfare of their colonial and Indian subjects, and I am led to the conviction that there is on all sides a growing desire to draw closer in every practicable way the ties which unite the various portions of my Empire.

I have authorized committees to be entered into with the principal colonial governments with a view to fuller consideration of matters of common interest. I trust that the blessing of Almighty God may be with you.

STILL INEVITABLE.
Moritz A. Fischer, the gentleman who was found unconscious and bleeding in a compartment car on the Underground Railway, Thursday evening, has remained in a sensible state since and still lies at the hospital. The police have framed a theory that Mr. Fischer received the wound on his forehead in coming in contact with the brick-work of the tunnel while looking through curiously out of the compartment window, to observe the occupants of the adjoining compartment while the train was at full speed.

THE DOMINION.
A schooner is reported wrecked 17 miles west of Port Arthur. Two bodies and a portion of the cargo have drifted ashore.

THE WRECKED STEAMSHIP.
St. Johns, N. F., September 25.—The steamer Hector, which has just arrived from the Strait of Belle Isle, reports that the last steamer had not yet been identified. Large quantities of debris are drifting ashore, consisting of pieces of masts and yards, cabin paneling, ladders and deck gear generally, but no boats.

A DYNAMITE ARRESTED.
Sarnia, Ont., September 25.—Charles A. Handell, a notary-keeper of this place, was arrested last night, charged with having attempted to blow up the residence of J. G. McCrack and Thomas House, prominent supporters of the Scott temperance act. When arrested Handell had two half-pound dynamite cartridges and a piece of fuse. He said the detective that he had obtained the dynamite in Detroit, Mich.

ENTERTAINING REBEL MEN.
Novel and Important Scheme of the Sioux.—Rad Redskins.

CHICAGO, September 25.—A special to the Times from Killebuck, Dak., says: It transpires that the Northern Sioux have under headway an enterprise which is at once novel and important. It has been determined by the councilmen of the Sioux Nation as well as by general consent among the people, to establish mail and transportation routes through the freezing regions, which shall be conducted exclusively by Indians, and as an Indian enterprise. The principal part of the work will be done by the young men of the nation, while the older ones will be in counsel, plan and manage. All the labor connected with the transportation of mail, passengers and freight will be performed on foot, and the athletic young Indians are now in training for their part of the enterprise. The mail carriers will travel by two and the freight carriers by one horse and a sled. It is intended to have the routes embrace every place that is considered a frontier town. Several hundred Indians will be employed, and all must be men of sobriety and honesty. The loads for mail teams will be limited to 300 pounds, and those for freight and passenger teams to 1,000 pounds. The mail will be transported according to government specifications, the same as at present—daily, tri-weekly, semi-weekly or weekly. The number of teams employed in hauling passengers and merchandise on any route will be governed by the amount of business offered. The mail carriers will travel at the rate of eight miles per hour, the passenger carriers at the rate of seven miles, and the freight carriers at the rate of five miles. The men will be harnesses to strong but light vehicles made especially for the work described. Boarding stations will be established at every twenty-five miles, and this distance is to constitute a day's travel for each team. Every runner will be required to make three round trips a week—a total of seventy-five miles in seven days. A term of ninety days will be the limit of a year's work for each individual. At the expiration of each term the Indians who have been in service are to return to their reservations and their places will be filled by a fresh lot. The whole business is to be conducted on the co-operative principle. Every member of the Sioux Nation will receive a percentage of the business done. The men who perform the work have been paid their salaries and all other operating expenses have been settled.

Red Raiders.

CHICAGO, September 25.—A special to the Times from St. Paul, Minn., says: An official letter from Fort Shaw, received at Fort Snelling headquarters, gives strong evidence that the Crows, Gros Ventres, Bloods and Piepans are prepared for stealing raids and for war, but are not yet ready to make a full-scale attack. Four hundred and fifty Crows were at one time on the move from the Crows, but claim to be moving on the Gros Ventres. In the meantime the Gros Ventres have struck a war party against the Bloods and killed them. Horse-stealing still goes on, and the report of the country officer at Fort Shaw shows the probability of widespread trouble. Three parties of Crows were sent from Assinibois, carrying transport horses, and three parties from Magnolia.

BOLD RAILROAD ROBBERY.

A Masked Man Robs the Burlington—Agent at Macon, Ill.

CHICAGO, September 25.—One of the boldest robberies that has come to the notice of the police for some time was perpetrated at Macon, Ill., at an early hour Friday morning. B. V. Kinsey, the night agent of the Burlington road at that point, was standing at the station reading, when he suddenly became aware that the cold muzzle of a shotgun was resting against his cheek, while the voice of a masked man who stood just outside the station window demanded: "Unlock that safe and deliver its contents or I'll kill you." Kinsey, who is a brave man, and an old and trusted employee of the road, hesitated a moment before complying with the demand, but when he was repeated with added emphasis, he opened the safe, took out a sack containing about $50 in silver and handed it to the fellow. "That ain't all," growled the robber; "give me the box or you are a dead man." And with the same time the ominous click of the hammer warned the agent that there was no time for delay. He handed out the sack and disappeared in the darkness. Kinsey as once again the local police were sent on the trail and inquiries were sent out in all directions, but the fellow seemed to have made good his escape. A double-barreled shotgun, uncleaned, was found standing just outside the building, and it is supposed that it is the one which was used to intimidate the agent. No trace of the man has been found.

Least, Schuster, who went to Siberia to distribute gifts from the United States Government to the Esquimaux and other Arctic natives who aided the Greely exploring party, arrived at Jersey City this morning and left for Washington. He will arrive at a home in St. Louis some time next week.
